C FILE - PROPERTIES OF PHYSICAL SYMPTOMS:

The physical symptoms show the theme of the disease in a static form but not dynamically. The attributes (accompanying phenomena) of the symptoms in the form of pain, feelings or changed external appearance are an expression of an individual dynamic reaction. They are logically characteristic of the sensitivity and temperament of the patient. The question of what someone is sensitive to can also reveal the cause and emotional state

The consequences of the conflict are A. emotional and B. functional:

A. CONSEQUENCES OF CONFLICT IN THE FORM OF AN INTERNAL EMOTIONAL REACTION:

This is about

- Concern inner perception in the form of pain:
- Concern inner perception in the form of feelings
- Concern in the form of sensory contact and connection problems:

The diverse manifestations of the sensations indicate the emotional state. Is it

- > an offensive reaction or just about
- >< an indifferent reaction acts as an expression of indecision?

B. CONSEQUENCES OF CONFLICT IN THE FORM OF EXTERNALLY PERCEIVABLE REACTIONS:

- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of localization to a specific organ:
- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of changed secretions urine, saliva, sweat, menstruation, etc.:
- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of generated noises and gestures:
- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of discoloration:
- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the type of skin changes:
- Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of deformations:

The diverse manifestations of the reactions indicate the emotional state in a perceptible form.

- < the resigned reaction will be one of passive acceptance: local lesions, atrophy:
- > the offensive reaction will be one of active counter-reaction or even a refusal to accept: Hot Flushing or painlessness of normally painful conditions.
- >< indifferent reaction here means a fluctuation between letting go < and > holding against it; Symptoms of tension, hoarseness

A. CONSEQUENCES OF CONFLICT IN THE FORM OF AN INTERNAL EMOTIONAL REACTION:

• Concern - inner perception in the form of pain:

The localization of a pain refers to the specific adaptation problem, the characteristics of the pain describe the dynamics of the adaptation problem.

Pain is fundamentally an expression of the futile effort to adapt. You try to adapt despite unsuitable circumstances (>) or you feelshelpless and give up (<).

C><	persistent pain	to be resentful, unable to get over disappointments, unable to reconcile oneself with futile efforts

C><	pull out, twitching, electric	not being able to act in his urge to act, so only to be able to discharge it in occasional involuntary outbursts

The feeling is a subjective and emotional perception of the situation. The arrow is an expression of conflict resolution in the form of defensive or offensive emotions. For example: I interpret the feeling that something is cut off as defensive (<). I interpret a seething feeling as offensive (>). I see feelings of tension or wavering as indifference (><).

C<	paroxysms	suddenly got out of sync with society (stumbled), no longer coherent, having fallen out of connection
C<	lasting problems, pain	he can neither reach agreement nor accept the conflict, which means for him that he has fallen out of the social consensus persistent
C<	cut off, it's like	it means without the possibility of articulation, thus to be curtailed in its expressive potential and thus also cut off in its presence
C<	lack of appetite, no appetite	refusal to get involved in social contacts, to face the question of social fit and to be challenged by it
C><	Irritated, sensitive	being at the limit of his emotional reserve due to irritating circumstances
C><	Tension, tensed, electrically tense	ready to react, having to be prepared, to be hit by a sudden event at any time
C><	itchy, tingling	between wanting and not daring to be undecided
C><	falling out, loosened, looseness	to be no longer able to stand up to challenges, can only stagger or fall
C><	movement inside, something alive	whatever you try, you cannot adjust appropriately and therefore not connect socially, remains unrelated
C><	thread feel	will by no means accept detachment from a social connection, to let go of it
C>	flame feeling	not being able to connect emotionally despite heated engagements, only being able to burn
C<	frosty, freezes	socially distant, emotionally disconnected
C><	Gurgling, bubbling	conflicting excitement, ultimately undecided without having binding references
C><	Sparks on the skin	to be emotionally charged between accepting and refusing the circumstances, not being able to come terms with it, only being able to discharge it occasionally allowed in the palpitations, rapid heart palpitations, rapid heart palpitations and the refusion palpitations and refusion palpitation pa

• Concern in the form of sensory contact and connection problems:

One sees a break in the sensual connection, which can only be causally explained by a lack of social consent. The conflict situation leads to defensive avoidance of contact, e.g. loss of taste (<), or consequences of aggressive confrontations, e.g. getting stuck (>). Here too, the connection problems may prove to be indifferent and therefore insoluble, e.g. in the form of persistent seizures or cramps (><).

CA<	unconsciousness, powerlessness	being exposed to impossible conditions of social acceptance, not being able to escape, only being able to switch off, to flee into a lack of connection
CA<	callousness, numbness skin, insensibility, deafness	avoiding contact by retreating inwards and escaping the outside
CA<	sense of smell Loss of	not getting involved with the conditions of social custom, only being able to avoid them
CA<	loss of sense of taste	shies away from exposing himself to the conditions of social edibility (social enjoyment), wants to avoid conflicts
CA<	blindness, insensitive to light	avoiding to be seen, is afraid to appear
CA<	sees things further away	problem of being emotionally distant, to feel separated further away from the social environment
CA<	hearing loss, deafness, deaf	is without harmony in his belonging, avoids conflicts by keeping his distance,
CA<	loss of sense of smell	does not want to get involved in the conditions of social custom, avoids them
CA<	painlessness, analgesia	does not face the conflict, represses it
C <	dryness	is exposed to negative circumstances, does not experience approval but also has no possibility of a solution

C<	reverberate, echoes	is heard in his statements only from himself, feels only thrown back on himself without personal environmental resonance
C><	conflicting, alternating symptoms	on the one hand he adapts but on the other hand he tries to get not involved, he tends to avoid conflicts
Balance problem:
C><	limping, staggering	not being able to accept without reservation changing location conditions with each step, not being able to gain a firm footing between seeking stability and holding back
C><	vertigo	not being able to find a secure position, not really held to, actually be without reliable reciprocity
C<	fall; feeling to	thinks not to be hold because of being without mutual references to the environment and therefore without external suppor

B. CONSEQUENCES OF CONFLICT IN THE FORM OF EXTERNALLY PERCEIVABLE REACTIONS:

• Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of localization to a specific organ:

C<	localization between fingers, toes	to hide his sensuality or orientation, to prevent to be recognized and questioned
C<	localization in skin folds	not expressing one's displeasure openly, but also not suppressing it, only being able to express it covertly
C>	lateral localization (head, temples, chest, extremities)	finds himself exposed to a dominating influence, feels forced in his direction
C>	frontal localization (on the forehead, neck, chest, abdomen, extremities)	faced with resistance, to be questioned as a personal presence
C><	side of body right and left:	finds himself exposed to a dominating influence, feels forced in his direction

C*>	side of body left	to be dependent on the dominant influence
C*>	side of body right	being oriented by aggressive pressure to conform
C><	alternating sides, change of sides	oscillating between one's own insecurity and prejudice against one's environment
C>	Location behind, back (head, neck,	to be in conflict with the conditions of social support, back, buttocks, extremities)	thus being without support
C<	Inside (to the opposite limb, to the	unsettled by their own concerns about not being at body)	peace with themselves
C>	outside (facing outwards)	an external dominating influence exposed to being steered in his direction
C<	Wrinkles, indentations, follicular,	hide one's true emotions, avoid direct confrontation retractions

• Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of changed secretions – urine, saliva, sweat, menstruation, etc.:

Pathological secretions without localization and/or properties are to be understood dynamically as being secreted. So you should have an attribute to provide information about the direction of this dynamics.

C>	discharge, sputum, pathological in nature	wanting to distance oneself from social conditions but being held back, only suppressing one's desire, only being able to distance oneself emotionally
C><	bloody discharge, to bleed	signal to be overwhelmed in his adaptability, however, not detaching oneself from the conflict, only being able to signal it
C><	thick discharge	being emotionally bound, of needing support, but now experiencing oneself distance, left to oneself

C><	fragrant, smells like violet	wants to avoid through lovely scent, to be sniffable in his displeasure at having to repress anything unpleasant
C><	proteinaceous (urine)	must suppress his resentment at having conformed but instead of being accepted was set apart
C><	pus, purulent	excited to be exposed to completely inappropriate, to have to dissolve oneself in order to be able to distance oneself from the cause of the conflict
C>	moist, weeping discharge	being held in arousing circumstances, not being able to break free from them, only being able to separate oneself emotionally
C><	epithelial casts in the urine	not being able to derive the excessive resentment without damaging the walls of the urethra
color of discharge		see colors below

C<	rotten, horrid	resentment at being held on the one hand, and being separated as a putrid, worthless outsider on the other
C>	plentiful discharge	Overflowing emotions about feeling socially distant, isolated
C><	sour discharge	Feeling of being alienated the social environment, to be without reciprocity, distant
C><	sharp, caustic, corrosive, excoriating discharge	wanting to detach oneself from one's environment but being dependent, not even being able to detach (through secretion) oneself indirectly therefore, so only being able to dissolve oneself
C><	frothy, bubbling	wanting to release of his social environment, but being held tight, therefore not being able to kalm and to release his bubbling emotions
C><	slimy, full of mucus	problem of not being able to solve or detach from a conflict, means also not being able to free oneself from one's emotions, to be stuck in it
C><	gushing discharge	no longer hold back the pent-up displeasure, only being able to let go of it in an abrupt discharge
C<	sandy, sediment, stone formation	to be not able to express his anger about the conditions or to break free, thus only to be able to hold them back to the point of petrification
C<	black discharge	not resolving his destructive circumstances, only keeping emotionally covered, not showing his displeasure, only being able to express himself indirectly through secretion
C><	involuntary salivation	not fulfill his desire for reciprocity, consent, therefore he only can derive it indirectly
C<	stinking, foul-smelling discharge	having to put up with it, not really accepted socially, being marginalized as a bad smelling outsider, isolated
C<	cloudy, dark, milky discharge	gloomy, being exposed to unfriendly social conditions, therefore does not experience any resonance or recognition, experiences itself as worthless separated
C><	involuntary secretion	being confronted with unfulfillable conditions, not being able to withstand the pressure to adapt, ultimately only giving up involuntarily and to distance yourself
C><	viscous, sticky discharges, pulls strings	to let a conflict go, but not to be able to relieve oneself from, being emotionally hold

• Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of generated noises and gestures:

- < Signal dissonance: e.g. hoarseness, cracking, whistling
- > Avoiding conflict through restraint, e.g. coughing

C<	hoarseness, loss of voice	communicative without resonance, consensus
C>	Barking cough	make pent-up resentment clearly audible in the form of
O,	Zaming sough	dissonance
C><	heiserer Husten, Hüsteln	excitement at only being able to express displeasure indirectly, at being in permanent dissonance in terms of communication
C>	whooping cough	get excited to the point of suffocation, to be 1 3 3	communicatively restricted and prevented from unfolding, so to be thrown back to oneself
C><	tickling cough	to be exposed to a subliminal stimulus between affection and importunity
C><	croup-like cough, pseudocroup	Resentment, being communicatively completely in 3 /1	dissonance, being thrown back on oneself, only having indirect possibility attract attention
C<	loud voice, talking, noisy	means making yourself heard, having to prove your breathing, snoring	presence thinks without being a natural, communicative
	J 3	connection
C><	loosely solved	to get rid of the reason for his displeasure, but not yet be able to free himself completely
C<	obstruction, blocked, breathhold	being without a connection to the outside, prevented
	, ,	from free communicative exchange, being thrown back on oneself

C><	coordination problem, clumsy,	problem of not having a suitable connection to the clumsiness	things in the outside world, of being more and more closed into oneself
C<	gluey, sticky blocked (inputs-	feeling of being without appreciation and therefore outputs)	prevented from appearing
C<	clogged (inputs-outputs)	feeling exposed to unwelcoming conditions, unaccepted, separated
C><	vibrating, tremble, trembling	torn between doing and not doing, therefore to be indecisive
C>	twitching, jerking	being emotionally charged, but stymied in his urge to act, only capable of occasional discharges
C<	clenching teeth, clenched jaw	to refuse confrontations, to be able to reduce oneself only to oneself, to one's own impressiveness
C<	curling up of, bending the body	to be modest, to confine oneself, i.e. to avoid confrontation, to duck,
C<	contraction, contracted	no longer wants to unfold, expose, only wants to close in itself off

• Externally perceptible consequences of conflict in the form of discoloration:

> emotionally extraverted: red, white

< keep a low profile emotionally: blue, glassy, black

>< neither extra nor introverted: yellow, green discolorations:

C>	red discoloration	unable to let one's emotions run free, caught between arousal and helplessness
C<	blue discoloration	to be exposed to unwelcoming circumstances, to be aloof, to be kept at a distance
C><	yellow discoloration	is on guard, does not accept social reciprocity as a matter of course, but does also not distance himself from it, he only deals with the conditions with reservations
